

Dear Colleague,

Planning for the 14th International Workshop on the Physics of Compressible Turbulent Mixing (IWPCTM) to be held later this year and hosted by the Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory (LLNL) is progressing. We are working towards holding the conference in the late summer in San Francisco or in the Bay Area. The tentative conference dates are Sunday–Friday 31 August–5 September 2014, with registration/reception on Sunday 31 August, and are dictated by hotel availability (the summer is peak tourist season in California).

In order to help us plan this conference, please complete the short questionnaire below and return it to us by replying to this e-mail (iwpctm14@llnl.gov) as soon as possible and before 31 January 2014. Please forward this note to other colleagues as appropriate.

We will likely have only one announcement in the next few months to request abstracts and provide additional details. We are currently working on a website as well. If you do not return this questionnaire by 31 January 2014, no further communications will be sent to you. We look forward to your participation in the 14th IWPCTM this year.

Best regards,

Oleg Schilling

Chairman, 14th International Workshop on the Physics of Compressible Turbulent Mixing
